Historical Update

The University of Delhi is a Central University functioning under the Act of Parliament. It is recognized as an institution of national importance by the Constitution of India. It was established in 1922. The Faculty of Law was established in 1924 by University of Delhi and is an accredited legal institution by the Bar Council of India for its LL.B. degree.

The Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.) Degree Course was initially treated as a two-year part-time Course and the teaching was conducted in the morning with ten teachers. The evening classes commenced in the year 1942. Two new courses, viz. Degree of Bachelor of Civil Laws (B.C.L.) and Certificate of Proficiency (Law) were made full-time Courses, though classes were held both in the morning as well as in the evening. With the enactment of the Advocates Act, 1961, the Certificate of Proficiency (Law) Course was abolished. The B.C.L. Degree Course was also discontinued in the year 1966.

In 1944, one year Master of Laws (LL.M.) was introduced. The LL.M. Course was made a full-time two-year Course in the year 1947. This course continues till date. Students taking admission in LL.M. (Two-years) course are required to file an affidavit declaring that they are not engaged in any trade, profession, business, or employment, etc. Mid-Sixties saw the introduction of two year course titled Master of Comparative Laws (M.C.L.) for foreign students. Around the same time LL.M. (Three Year) was introduced to enable working persons to acquire the LL.M. degree by studying the same courses of LL.M. (Two Year) spread over a period of three years.

The year 1966 was memorable in the history of the Faculty of Law and legal education in the country. The then Dean, Prof. P.K. Tripathi and his team of dedicated teachers adopted and implemented almost all the recommendations of the Gajendragadkar Committee on Legal Education, 1964 (appointed by the then Vice-Chancellor, Dr. C.D. Deshmukh). The two-year LL.B. Course was converted into three year (six semesters) Course. With Prof. Upendra Baxi joining the Faculty of Law in 1975, it became the hub of social-legal approach to the study of law promoting understanding of law in the context of society and the interplay of law and society.

LL.B. in University of Delhi is a three year post-graduate programme. Admission to LL.B. is made strictly on the basis of merit in the Entrance Exam conducted by University of Delhi every year.

The Three Law Centres of Faculty of Law and their location

The Faculty of Law was initially located in the Prince's Pavilion in the Old Vice Regal Lodge Grounds, where presently the Anthropology Department is housed. In 1963 it was moved to its present location on Chhatra Marg, North Campus, University of Delhi. The Faculty of Law held all evening and morning classes of LL.B., LL.M. and M.C.L. in the Law Faculty building on Chhatra Marg prior to 1970. With the demand for increase of seats in LL.B., Law Centre-I was established in the year 1970 with 600 seats and held its classes in the evening in a building in Kashmiri Gate. Soon it was relocated in a School at Mandir Marg. In 1994, Law Centre-I was relocated to the main Campus of Faculty of Law on Chhatra Marg. The demand for more seats for teaching law in the evening led to the establishment of Law Centre-II with 400 seats in 1971. It was located in the A.R.S.D. College premises at Dhaula Kuan. Since 2018, Law Centre-II too has been relocated in the North Campus. In 1975, Campus Law Centre was established and the day classes of LL.B. hitherto being conducted by the Faculty of Law, were transferred to it.

The year 2015 saw allocation of another five story building to Law Faculty, namely, Umang Bhawan, by the University of Delhi. Umang Bhawan is at a walking distance of about 500 meters from the old premise of Law Faculty. Umang Bhawan is equipped with all the modern amenities like elevators, CCTV cameras, spacious and modern classroom with multi-media facilities, etc. LL.B. classes of Law Centre-I and Law Centre-II and LL.M. are held in the new building. LL.B. classes for Campus Law Centre are held in the old building and those of Ph.D. scholars are held in the Seminar hall in the old building of LC-I in the old premise.

The syllabus, Reading Materials, and examination are common for LL.B. in all the three Law Centres. The Reading Materials are revised every Semester to incorporate latest changes introduced in the law by amendment or enactment of new law and judicial decisions. The reading materials are also available to all at our website.

Despite establishment of three Law Centres, Faculty of Law is a single department Faculty with the Dean being the Head of the Department also. Each Law Centre has its own Professor-in-Charge responsible for day to day functioning of the Law Centres and look after the needs of LL.B. students. Teaching of LL.M, M.C.L., and Ph.D. and the responsibility of co-ordination and supervision of the functioning of the three Law Centres is with the Dean and Head of the Faculty of Law.

LL.B. is a full-time professional course recognised and regulated by the Legal Education Rules 2008 of the Bar Council of India. In accordance with the BCI prescribed time for holding classes from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m., classes for students of Law Centre-II are conducted from 8 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. and for Law Centre-I students from 2 pm to 7.30pm in Umang Bhawan. Classes for students of Campus Law Centre are held from 8.30 to 3.30 pm. The timings and venue of classes for any Centre may be changed at any time without prior notice as permitted by the BCI in the buildings allocated to Faculty of Law by the University of Delhi.

Teaching Methods

With training of teachers in case study method with the help of Ford Foundation in mid-1960s, Case Method had been the primary mode of teaching in Law Faculty. The students are given selected cases decided by the Supreme Court and High Courts on a given topic and with the help of those cases the students learn how the legal provisions contained in the substantive, procedural, and evidence laws play a role in the decision of cases. The Law Faculty of Delhi was the pioneer in adopting and propagating use of Case Method as the primary mode of teaching supplemented with lecture method. With the introduction of practical courses since the mid-1990s, the participatory clinical teaching methods like group discussions, role plays, and simulation have been integrated with other teaching methods. With the advent of technology in classrooms, use of multi-media has become common place in the teaching of law in the Faculty of Law, University of Delhi. All these developments were and are pioneering and unique in the teaching of law for any Indian law school.

With the introduction of four compulsory course on clinical legal education, internship with a lawyer, judge, law firm, NGOs doing legal work is compulsory for all LL.B. students during vacations and mid-term breaks. It is an evaluated exercise and marks are given for the same on the basis of diary maintained of the activities undertaken during internship. Internship is not permitted during the semester.

Post Graduate and Research Programmes

The Faculty of Law offers Master of Laws (LL.M.) (2 year and 3 year), Master of Comparative Laws (M.C.L.) (Two Years), the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) and the Doctor of Civil Laws (D.C.L.) program. These courses are taught and supervised by faculty members drawn from all the three Law Centres.
