Re:- Grant of permission to pursue part time Ph.D in Law from Lucknow University

Sir,

Apropos the afore mentioned subject I have the honor to submit that the Lucknow University, has recently announced that it will be conducting a part time Ph.D course, inter alia, in the subject of Law.

The undersigned having already completed his LL.M and on account of being posted in Lucknow itself, is quite eager and willing to further enhance his juristic and legal capacity, by enrolling for the above captioned course.

It behooves mention that the said course is a part time course and as per the information available on the website of Lucknow University, does not entail attendance in regular classes. A Ph.D course simply requires research work, which can be done in my non-office days. Since the undersigned is performing purely administrative work and that too at Lucknow itself, my enrollment in the part time Ph.D course will not in any manner effect the performance of my official duties.

Additionally, the undersigned would also not be seeking a study leave for the duration of the said course.

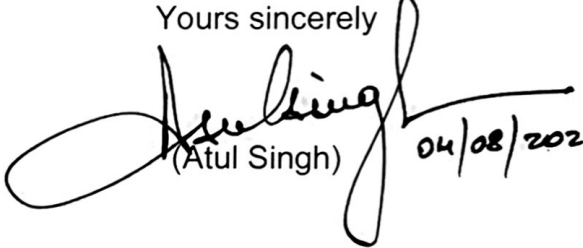

It is thus requested that this letter be placed before the Hon'ble Court for seeking the kind consent of the Hon'ble Court, to permit the undersigned to enroll for the aforementioned course. I shall remain eternally beholden for the same.

With utmost regards

Yours sincerely
